smiles dance across my face and plant themselves on my lips the sight of you makes my heart rejoice and it beats a happy tune.
glorious are all moments of this magical togetherness.
nothing could be quite so beautiful as you and i dancing our dance to the music of our love.

a school is not only for the learning of books,
but also for the discovery of emotions that once were not felt,
for the building of personal relationships that once could not be made, for the experiencing of situations that once were never expected, for finding knowledge about yourself that once you did not know;
a school should prepare you for life.

i spend all my energies trying to catch hold of life and shout at it. stop! i'm not ready to grow-up, not prepared for life with its demands, its responsibilities and decisions.
our lives like rivers that flow.
rushing and gushing toward the sea.
the water in continuous motion. indeed, born of the clouds with anxious feet and beating hearts.
time, with its pathetic hands scoop up youth and strangle it.
we are swept along by those who will come after us and tugged by those before.

life is too short
we seem to get bogged down with superficial relationships let me see you . . .
just as you are let me know how you feel

The Mills honored at "This is Your Life" to community's youth in education, church dedication

After 32 years in education, E. C. "Bus" Mills, our principal, will retire effective the end of the current school year.

Mr. Mills began teaching in a one-room school in Oklahoma, and has spent 27 years as a school administrator. Mr. Mills is a native of Stigler, Okla., and earned his B.S. degree in mathematics and science at Northeastern State College, Okla. He earned his master's degree at Frenso State College and has done graduate studies at USC. In 1946 he was offered a position as math teacher and assistant track coach at Bakersfield High School and Bakersfield College. He has been in Kern County ever since.

In 1947, Kern High School District named him principal of Kernville High School (now called Kern Valley High). In the fall of 1953, Mr. Mills returned to Bakersfield High School as a counselor, math instructor, and coach. Later he was named director of counseling and director of the summer school. In 1956, he was appointed vice principal in charge of counseling and in 1962, he was advanced to principal at East.

Mr. Mills has been active in many associations. He served for two terms as state chairman of the vice principals committee of the California Association of Secondary School Administrators. He was the last president of California Association of Secondary School Administrators, Region 16, before that group was merged into the recently formed Association of California School Administrators (ACSA). He is a past president of the West Kern Charter Council of ACSA.

Mr. Mills has been on the First Baptist Church board of ushers for 15 years, served on the church board of trustees and is vice chairman of the board of missions and a member of the long range planning committee. He is a charter member and past president of the Westchester Kiwanis Club of Bakersfield.

Mr. Mills and his wife, Lois are parents of two sons and two daughters. One son, James B. Mills, is a U.S. Navy fl:er missing in action in Southeast Asia since September of 1966.

As a result of his son's plight, Mr. Mills and his wife have been active in the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia, and Mr. Mills is on that league's board of directors and its western regional coordinator. He testified before the U.S. Senate Foreign Relations Committee and met with Dr. Henry Kissinger in an attempt to intensify U.S. efforts to find or account for the MIAs.

In February, friends sponsored a "This Is Your Life" banquet for the Mills with more than 300 attending.

Looking back over the years, Mills said he has noted many changes in society and in education. "Modes of dress, discipline and grooming are certainly different and would not have been acceptable years back. We are living in a much more permissive society now. The percentage of students of high school age attending now is much higher than 25 years ago. Our curriculum is more comprehensive. Our young people are growing in to fine adults, and learning more now than ever before," he said.

Susan and Jesse characterized quiet and courteous manner

Betty and Bobby Blade

An all city running back Jesse Pena became Bobby Blade 1974. His expertise in football and track combined with his quiet, courteous manner caused him to be respected by students and faculty alike.

Jesse expressed his pleasure in receiving this high honor and felt it was a great way to end his career at East High. He enjoyed his years at East and the priviledge of participating in Football and Track was especially meaningful to him. He added "I wouldn't mind repeating the whole experience."

Susan Scott, varsity song leader was chosen over other outstanding senior girls to represent East High as its official hostess. The Honor of Betty Blade was overwhelming to Susan as she stated mid year, "I still can't believe it, it's just something I never believed would happen to me."

Susan's quiet personality and friendly manner endeared her to friends and classmates as she participated in the life of East High.

Jesse Pena gratefully accept onor of Bobby Blade from Mr. Mills principal.

CASC President John Rosenberg hosted Regional Conference

Executive Council

The fundamental purposes of the Executive council were to conduct and supervise student body elections and to keep the class councils organized. They branched out into planning and sponsoring the CASC regional conference held at East during January. John Rosenberg, president of our region, was instrumental in the organization.

Among their new ventures this year was the sponsoring of the Young Ambassadors, a talented group of young people from Brigham Young University. Assigned members of the council produced the News East program which stressed the Energy crisis and how it related to students. The officers and members of the Executive council were responsible for keeping the student body of East high organized and active toward the common goal of running East smoothly.

"I was so happy I couldn't see all of the people"

Campus Royalty

"When I heard my name announced, I couldn't believe it. I was so happy I couldn't see all of the people. So many thoughts went through my mind. As I look back on it, I can't remember what I did. It happened so fast and was so unexpected. When I walked up to the throne and looked out at the people, I couldn't see them because I was so happy. The days following were filled with congratulations. When I was in the paper, I must have received ten pictures of myself that people sent me.

Queens were selected on the basis of how much the person has contributed to school involvement. By the time you're a senior, there is a long list of things.

Being a senior is really great. It's sort of frightening to realize that next year I'll be out on my own in this huge world. Nobody will be around telling me what and when to do things. I have really enjoyed my four years at East High and I wouldn't have wanted to go to any other school. It's really sad when I think of leaving behind all the great friends I had, but there will always be the memories."

Cast and crew added "dramatic flair" to eventful exciting year

Student Body Plays

East High was fortunate enough to have two plays, one in the fall and another in the spring. "Seven Keys to Baldpate" was a famous satire on mysteries. Lead roles were played by Wayne Hazzard and Patti Renfro. In March, "See How They Run," was produced with more cooperation among the cast and crew than ever before. Dani Fox and Dwight Utz starred . . . Both plays were handicapped by inexperience on the part of the cast but they triumphed over these difficulties and the results were rewarding. Without Mr. McAtee's expert directing, and the assistance of the stage crew each play would have lacked that "dramatic sparkle" so essential in a stage production.

Student Store experience helped Oscar gain insight

Oscar Palacios found that his english was inadequate to communicate when he first arrived in Bakersfield U.S.A. In Paraguay, Spanish was all he needed, howeverin a matter of a few weeks he was on his way to becoming bilingual. Living as a member of Dr. Tom Larwoods family, whose daughter Diana is a sophomore at East, Oscar soon became "Americanized" enough to fit into the life of East High School.

Every AFS student has many adjustments to make. Oscar was no exception. Learning to accept strange customs requires maturity and patience. Perhaps the greater part of Oscars real learning came from accepting this responsibility.

Oscar participated in AFS activities and worked in the Student Store. He also carried a full load of classes. Friendship, academic growth, a new family and many new insights into contemporary American life became a reality for Oscar Palacios in 1974.

Brown and Ashlock shared top honors as team voted

Despite the fact that Varsity Football didn't have a winning season doesn't mean that East High wasn't represented by a strong team. The skill and determination was there but the team couldn't seem to put it all together. The Blades ended the season with a 2-3-1 SYL record under the direction of head coach Walt Napier, defensive coach Larry Jones, and line coach Jim Robesky. Outstanding players include All City All League selections Tim Ashlock, Delwin Brown, and Jesse Pena. Other standouts were Fred Calivo, Richard Martinez, Emilo Gonzales, Roy Gonzales, and Joe Dumatrait.

Chumley Award to Otis Richardson

The Daggers suffered a disappointing Season this year finishing with a record of one win and eight losses. The record does not tell the whole story though as the Daggers out played their opponents many times in an unrewarded effort. When the Daggers came close to scoring they were killed time and again by penalties and mistakes. The Daggers lacked depth and key injuries hurt the team throughout the season.

Some of the bright moments during the season included the 13-6 win over Hanford as both the offense and defense combined for an outstanding game sparked by a forty yard touchdown pass from Jensen to Nichols and a one hundred and five yard interception runback by John Wright for the second touchdown of the night.

The Daggers then came back to play great football their two games against West and South who tied for the league championship. The Daggers ran and passed at will but came up short of a win in both of the hard fought battles.

During the Fall sports banquet, Coaches Ridgley and Travers were presented with tokens of appreciation for their hard work and effort to produce a winning team. The annual Jim Chumley award voted on by the players, was presented to Otis Richardson the only freshmen on the squad, for his leadership and contribution to the team.

West High Struggle showed teams best

After many hours of hard practice and learning this years Dirks acquired new knowledge, skills, and experience. Although the season log of 0-8-1 wasn't that impressive coaches Stanley, Parks, and Mills were pleased with the spirit and efforts of the players. High points of the season came in a hard fought tie with West High and the near defeat of the unbeaten, crossrival B. H. S. Mike Edwards all around Top Man

Mike Edwards paced the East High Harriers to a second in the league and an impressive fifth in the valley. After a slow start the Blades came back to be a major threat in every meet. Among top performers on this years varsity team were Jon and Cregg Weinman, Terry Lewis, Eddie Hernandez, Johnny Esquada, and John Laird.

The Junior Varsity team finished second in league and third in the valley. Brian Thomson was the highest placing member on the team. Along with his first place finish in the valley Phillip Rameriz, Efren Rameriz, John Roux, and Gary Gerlic turned in outstanding performances.

For the first time girls were allowed to participate in Cross-Country this year. The Bladettes finished FIRST in the league. Robin Hearron, and Cathy Scatena were outstanding and most inspirational members. Martha Najera and Cathy Opper.

Girls Volleyball

Led by team captain Susan Rojas East Highs first girls volleyball team entered league play with a score of 4-15 and 9-15. Despite this loss the team kept their and determination to win. Rookie Coach Catherine Miller taught volleyball skills and acquired patience as the team struggled to improve and grow.

With a height advantage, Maria Rodriguez and Theresa Burgoni were the spikers. Susan Mahoney and Debbie Kelner were setters while Debbie Allen and Roxanne Martin served as all around team players.

With more losses than wins the season ended with more mature players and seven letter winners who had all benefitted from the team work experience.

At the Awards Banquet Susan Rojas was named most outstanding player and Annette Girard as most inspirational. Sherri Aud, Theresa Camp, Delfina Cerda, Tadel Furgason, Annette Girard and Wanda Morgan were the J.V. players receiving certificates of participation.

Varsity Basketball

The Blades patented fast break came down the basketball court with a swirl again this season. Led by Mike Boyd and Marvin Blackwell, returnees of the 1973 team, the team was always a threat to break a game open a la U.C.L.A. style. The fast break was supplemented by a rotating press on defense, causing opponents to commit numerous turnovers.

Three boys with no previous organized basketball experience strengthened the squad. They were: Lino Gonzales, Gary Moles, and Hosea Wesley. Hosea Welsey's performance was really the surprise of not only the team but the League averaging 14-15 points per game. Mike Boyd was the league leader in scoring averaging 20 points per game. Rounding out the squad were Randy Richardson, Dean Jones, Charlie McWhorter, Alfred Nichols, Gilbert Hernandez and Max Boone. Meanwhile, the staff salutes particularly Mike Boyd and Hosea Wesley for their outstanding play during their senior year.

Coach Joe Dominguez, was the new head basketball mentor, arriving at East sporting a fine record earned at Burroughs High School. He brought the squad to play a fine brand of basketball and finished with a 14-6 win-loss record, finishing third in the tough South Yosemite League. The most satisfying win of the season, particularly for the new coach was beating his old team, Burroughs, by one point on his new home court.

Height may have been the big factor this year as the Blades had trouble with the taller teams in the league. The Blades were also beset with illness and other problems during crucial league games which hampered their SYL chances.

Despite these factors basketball fans continued to pack our antiquated gymnasium in support of the Blades long tradition of winning basketball.

"Friendly" coach Hice kept team hustling

J.V. Basketball

A new basketball season for the Junior Varsity saw a friendly coach, Gilbert Hice, working with a small but determined team that boasted a group of players who had tied for the "C" class title during the '73 season. The players had to adjust to a new style of play, including a rotating press. The practice season ended with a mediocre record as the coach sought a winning combination. League play opened with the Daggers winning a well played contest with Highland. From that time on the squad saw both the "highs" and the "lows" of the basketball season. The Daggers overall record was 8 and 12 win loss record which placed them in league. The Daggers played spotty ball during the season. There were some contests, as against Highland and West when they looked unbeatable. However when landing in the loss column the Daggers had always kept the score close and tight.

The starting five revolved around "cool" Leonard Galindo, "sturdy" Victor McGee, "sharp" Ricky Nichol, "chunky" Ed Pritchard and "hustling" Doug Jensen. They were supported by Tim Holmes, Jeff Krafve, and Dave Roberts.

Frosh Soph Basketball

Determination and style characterized this years Frosh Soph team under the direction of Coach Louis Barraza as they posted a 8 and 11 win loss record. With only one returning player from last years team the Dirks had lots of room for new talent. The Dirks started out with impressive wins over Burroughs and Wasco but slacked off in SYL play to finish.

The Dirks were paced by the outside shooting of Ernie Dixon and Mike Goodwald. Pulling down rebounds for the Dirks were Eddie McGee and Jerry Escalera. Other outstanding players were Homer Pratt, Brian Herrgord and Steve Casey.

Veteran Ray Garza nabbed Valley Title

J.V. Varsity Wrestling

Wrestling, a sport of dedication, stamina, and the ability to withstand the pressure of one on one competition led young athletes to develop themselves to their fullest potential. Its a sport in which not only team participation was important but also individual competition.

This years Varsity and J.V. squads suffered 0-7 SYL meet records. Although the record implied a losing season it wasn't a total loss. Many young wrestlers gained valuable experience. Among these were freshman Tim Acosta and Ray Pepper, sophomores Donavan Judkins, Tim Allen, Steve Landucii, Ray Rerez, Mike Perez, and Terry Lewis.

Veterans on the squad included seniors Ray Garza, two time valley champ and team captain, Phil McNabb, varsity heavyweight, Russell Bridgewater, and Gonzolo Montellono, Gonzolo had been injury ridden all year. Other returnees included juniors Lorenzo Marquez, and Steve Feralas, sophomores Juan Aleman, Leonard Morentine and Pat Whitemore. Rounding out the squad was first year senior Robert Flores.

Raymond Garza, the undisputed team leader, grappled his way to a 44-1 win-loss record and the valley title. Raymond was a prospect for any wrestling school in the state.

After serving as assistant coach and campus supervisor Mr. Bill Pineda left at the end of the school year to take a position with the Kern County Fire Department. He was appreciated by students and faculty alike forhis fine attitude as "campus cop" and determined efforts as our J.V. wrestling coach.

Varsity Baseball

New coach George Ridgley built this year's team composed mostly of seniors into one of the stronger teams in recent Blade history.

The mound crew was led by ace right-hander Roy Gonzales and Eddie Hernandez who had several fine performances early in the season. They were backed up by Greg Quigley, Mickey Brockman, Leonard Galindo and Ronnie Thompson when tight spots occurred.

The Blades showed early in the season that they wanted to win by beating three of the top teams in the league by sizable scores and by coming from behind many times to pull out tight games.

The Blades' deadly combination of speed and hitting provided spurts of runs that killed opponents. Leading the hitting attack for the Blades this year were Steve Padilla, Tony Gonzales, Art Salinas, and Afred Nichols.

Players who excelled on defense were first baseman Azail Salinas and outfielder Bobby Richards.

Rounding out this year's fine team were Emilio Gonzales, Gilbert Hernandez, and sophomore Doug Jensen.

Bloom led baseballers from disappointing start to rallying win

Junior Varsity Baseball

The Daggers under the direction of Mr. Tom Bloom played a fine brand of baseball. The Daggers got off to a disappointing start by losing their first two games. The team then started playing better as a unit both on defense and with the bat as the season grew older.

The mound men for the Daggers included Dwayne Eagle, Willie Hamlett, and Alex Salinas who did a good relief job when tight spots occurred. The hitting attack for the Daggers was led by Alex Salinas and Keith David while Eddie Hamlett and Alan Thomas excelled defensively. Rounding out the Daggers attack was catcher Ernie Reyes.

First year coach Mike Eldridge built a strong and very talented team from this year's freshmen. The Dirks steady defense and exciting offense provided good baseball throughout the season. The Dirks got off to a slow start but as the season progressed they improved quite rapidly. The top hurlers for this years Dirks were Greg Moore and Mark Galindo. The Dirks strong hitting attack was led by versatile third baseman Jim Galindo, second baseman Steve Thurmon, catcher Alfred Rivera and shortstop Rick Duke.

Varsity and JV Track

The 1974 Blade track coaches Chuck Weinmann and John Lopez noted some fine individual performances, but team effort was inconsistent. Among the fine performers were the relay teams. Jesse Pena led the varsity mile relay with strong times ranging from 48.4 to the low 50's. Field events were sparked by the outstanding high-jumping of Mike Boyd, shot-putters Alfred Sanchez, Tony Martinez, and Mike Ramirez and the long-jumping of Marvin Blackwell and Ernie Dixon.

A small splash broke the calmness in the air. Following it came a loud exclamation "It's cold!". That's the way it was as the Blade swimmers plunged into the pools at the start of February. This first practice exemplified an attempt to make East a powerhouse in SYL swimming.

Coach Norman Stanley had high hopes for the SYL title with well over half of last year's team returning. Those coming back were outstanding swimmers Lars Olson, Tom Moehnke, Tim Ashlock, Rod Krafthefer, and Paul Chavez. The Brown brothers, Eric, Paul and Ross combined to be a dangerous trio in the 200 Im, 200 and 500 respectively. The Blade swimmers posted powerful preseason wins over Handford, Wasco and Delano.

The Junior Varsity also looked impressive with freestyler Wayne Hazzard who was a threat in the 50 and 100. John Giles, Chris Burgoni, Steve Shubert and Richard DenHerder, rounded out the team.

Tremendous individual performances by Janet Simon, Inga Olson, and Denise Chavez showed that the Bladettes had the ability and determination to become a good competition time. Other girl standouts included Nancy Bell, Jill Canfield, and Debbie Kelner.

Sweepstakes trophy won at Pepperdine

Yell Leaders

During the summer, the Varsity squad represented EB at Pepperdine College, Malibu. There, they competed with high school squads throughout California, and enthusiastically won the highest honor of sweepstakes. They were responsible for teaching the apprentices and oncoming cheerleaders the various cheering routines and techniques. The girls took time to give goodies and spirit letters to the individual team players. Varsity also travelled to neighboring high schools for exchange rallies and skits.

Yell Leaders, under Barbara Peabody, encouraged EBites to root their team on to victory. Head Betty Colombana coordinated the song leaders to perform dance routines. Under Rally Chairman Martha Maldonado and Senior Rally Cindy Desme, the Yell and Song Leaders worked together to generate school spirit throughout the entire year.

The Apprentice Program, in its second year, provided selected sophomore and junior girls with a chance to cheer at JV and Frosh- Soph games. Resulting from many hours of tedious practice, the cheerleaders presented their yells with a great amount of enthusiasm. Led by rally leaders Lanelle Dommer, Rachel Hernandez, and Leigh Ann Wenrich, the apprentices promoted all-around spirit.

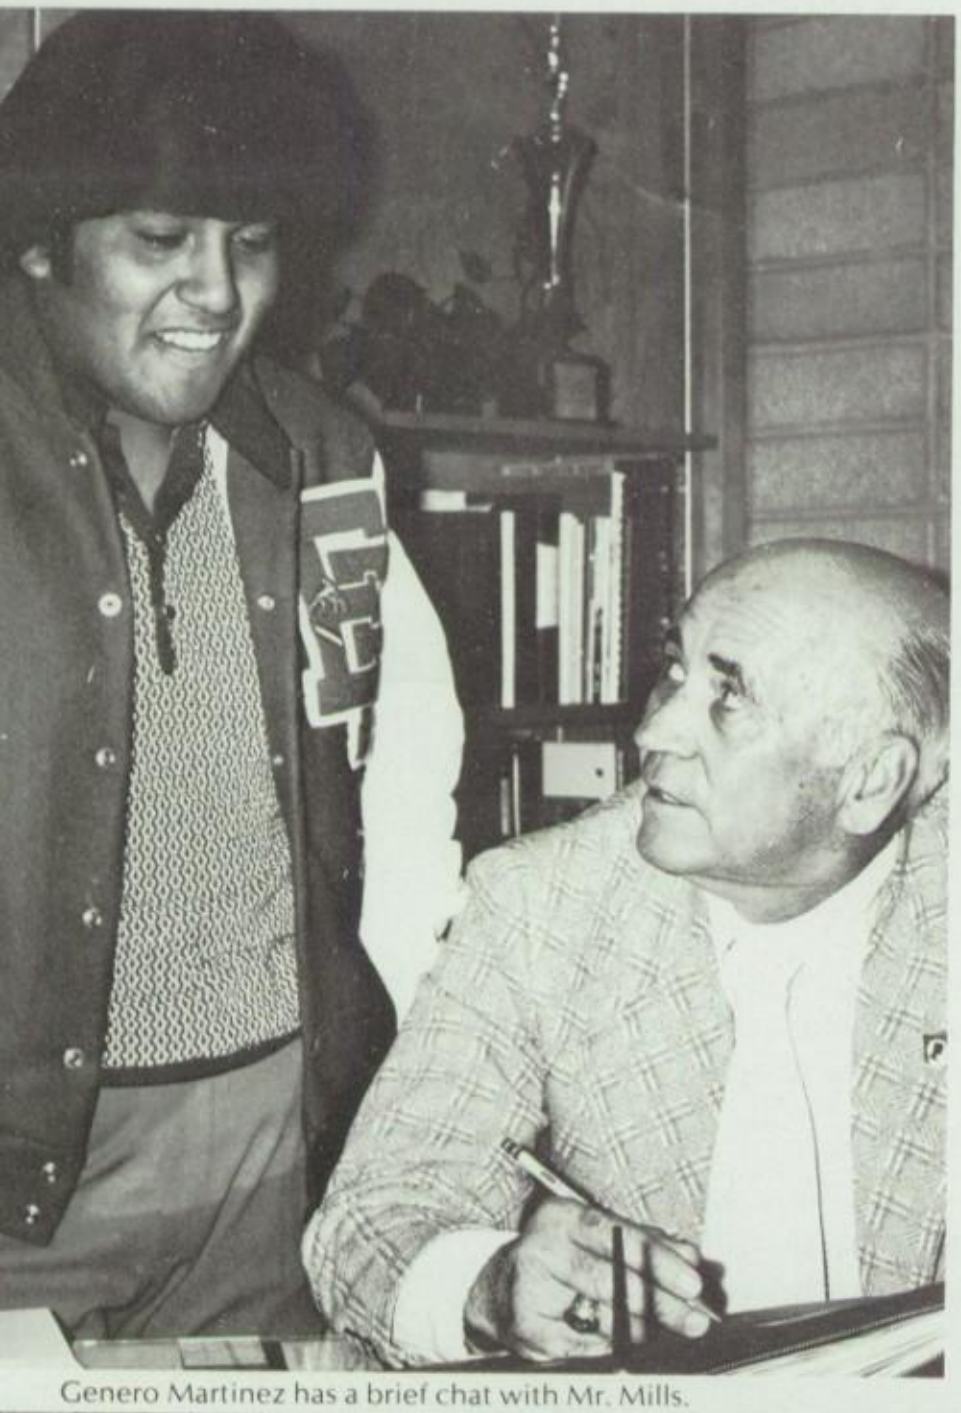
Mr. E. C. Mills, Principal



Genero Martinez has a brief chat with Mr. Mills.

Mr. Mills Missed Student Contact

Mr. Mills remarked, "There is no feeling of satisfaction, in my opinion, greater than seeing youth, who came to us from all ethnic and sociological backgrounds, progress through four years of schooling in such a way that they and we are pleased with our production."

Taking the challenge to make East High the type of school in which all can have pride, Mr. Mills strove to provide an atmosphere where the education of students could best be accomplished. Feeling that his job must have a positive effect on the student body, he was vitally concerned with student activities, both in and of class. This concern has brought him not only success as a principal but also respect from those who know and work with him.

His one regret was that the administrative responsibilities of being principal tended to take him away from individual contact with many students. He missed many of the relationships previously acquired when he worked directly with youth as a teacher.

In summarizing the events of this year at E. B., Mr. Mills said: "This year has progressed so smoothly, this is a tribute to all of you. Perhaps in a year where other schools in our state and nation are plagued by teacher strikes and turmoil, we could consider our smooth operation as unique."

Freshman Studies an innovation in counseling

Asst. Admin. Counselors

Being our only Assistant Principal, John King had tremendous responsibilities. His immediate concerns were the supervision and success of the counseling program, however he also undertook student scheduling, transfers, the Registrar and parent calls.

Acting as Dean of Administration this year was Jean Philippe. He headed the classified employees such as custodians, cafe, and aides. Other roles assigned him included school budget, Athletic director and transportation.

As his title, "Dean of Students" implies, Les Carpenter worked almost entirely with students. In charge of honor roll, discipline, lost and found and visiting agencies he worked toward more campus control. Gwen Teague, his assistant, served also in the capacity of counseling.

Earlene Waters acted as our Dean of Curriculum this year with a full schedule. She assisted teachers, discussed curriculum development, and attempted to provide the best learning situations. She also headed textbook services.

As director of Activities, Bob Martin was in constant motion to plan assemblies, rallies and approving sales of chocolate, suckers, magazines, calendars etc. Along with these he found time to be Assistant director of athletics, and advisor to the Executive Council.

The counseling program was greatly changed this year in order to provide time for individual students, counselors were assigned entire classes rather than dividing according to alphabet. Also inaugurated was a new freshman counseling Studies Program.

Mr. James Esneault

James Esneault was born in San Francisco and attended Sequoia High School in Redwood City. He spent 2 years at San Jose State but received his A.B. with class of 1934 at Standford, also receiving his MA at Standford.

After college he taught at Santa Cruz, Palm Springs and Lakeport. When the U.S. entered World War II, James Esneault served in the Army Air Force stationed in North Africa and Europe.

Since 1946 he has been teaching in the foreign language department at East High.

His wife is Faye Esneault and his daughter Jeani, was an E. B. graduate in 1966.

Concerning his experiences here Mr. Esneault says, "It is difficult to look back at 28 years at E.B. without some regrets that I shall not be back. East High has always been something special and I shall always be happy and grateful that I was privileged to teach here."

Mr. Roscoe Morgan

Born and raised in the Buttonwillow area, Roscoe Morgan attended Wasco High, Bakersfield College, received his BA in various extension programs at UCLA and his MS at USC. After graduation he worked in the Oil business until he obtained a long term substitute teaching position at Laguna Beach. After teaching at Needles High and Maricopa he came to East High in the fall of 1943.

He had taught most of the business courses with part time counseling but in 1961 he left the classroom.

As for East High, Roscoe Morgan says, "Don't let anyone sell East short, it is a good school and I am proud to have been a part of it."

Fine Arts program allowed students a creative outlet

Allowing students to explore their creative abilities, East High's Art Department has expanded its offering to sixteen various classes. The photography division of this department was under the direction of Jack Hendrix. Abstract, nature, stillife and portrait techniques were covered. Advanced students provided the bulk of photographs for the Sierran. Many mounted photographs were displayed in the Fine Arts fair and a number were entered in Henley's annual contest.

Skills in ceramics, painting, drawing were taught by Jim Stidham and the jewelry and craft classes were under the direction of Bob Janzen. Many students represented East High at the Kern County Art Festival and during the annual Festival of Arts in May, art students displayed a wide variety of their best works.

The Music Department presented a full schedule of entertainment this year. Opening the season in November was the Pops Concert in which the orchestra and choral groups performed a mixture of contempory and traditional selections. Highlights of the year included the Christmas Concert and the three Spring Concerts which involved the orchestra, the choral groups, and the band. This year these musical groups traveled to various Junior high schools hoping to motivate potential members.

The Piano classes accepted beginners along with aspiring concert pianists. Electric keyboards, and earphones enabled the students to work at an individual pace. The Beginning Instrument class let students have a chance at great musical opportunities.

Math Lab strengthened basic skills

Math Science

The East High Math Department offered a great variety of classes so that students could take the courses which were the most useful for them. As a result courses of individual math, consumer math, and business math increased in enrollment. Mr. Lester Makoff, department head stated: "Even though the quantity of college-bound students taking the engineering sequence of Algebra, Geometry, Algebra II, Math Analysis, has decreased, the quality has not. On the whole, this year's math classes had a dedication to learning and an outstanding attitude rarely surpassed in previous years."

An example of this enthusiasm was shown by the fact that 42 students from Geometry, Math Analysis, and Algebra classes volunteered for the Math Team. These volunteers participated in math contests and math field days on several Saturdays. Twelve of the EB students set for themselves the challenging task of preparing original talks on math topics for these contests.

The Individual Math Program, the newest math course offered at EB, has been a fresh approach to teaching students with weak math backgrounds the basic math skills. It allowed the students to acquire math knowledge at his own pace. Part of each student's time was spent in the Math Lab. This Lab allowed students the opportunity to use the concepts and skills he learned, by working with calculators, models, adding machines and various other materials.

The Science Department presented East High Students with a wide range of science classes including Biology, World Science, Chemistry and Physics. The basic biological concepts were covered in the Biology Classes taught by Mr. Roger Chichester. The students explored areas of genetics and conservation as they investigated the plant and animal kingdom. Mr. Ed Goodrich taught the World Science Classes which surveyed Biology and the other physical science areas of physics, earth science and chemistry.

The Allied Health Classes, offered a program of work experience for those students wishing to further their medical interest. Kern General Hospital was used as an extension of these two hour classes under the instruction of Mrs. Janet Richards.

This year, Mr. Paul Sunderland taught all of the Chemistry and Physics courses. A significant advancement was made in the Physics class with the addition of hand held optical benches. This allowed experiments with lenses, telescopes, and microscopes to get done rapidly, individually, and with a high degree of accuracy.

Co-Ed P. E. Catered to student interests

Physical Education

A wholly different approach to physical education was tried this year at EB. The P. E. Elective program for Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes came into full effect after a successful experimental stage. Students were allowed to have their choice of sports at designated semester changes. The variety of sports ranged from baseball and weight training to cycling and bowling. Most of the P. E. classes were co-ed and catered more to the interests of the students. Fre hman classes underwent the traditional P. E. program.

In addition to the new elective program were three new P. E. teachers, Mr. Joe Dominguez, Mr. George Ridgley, and Mrs. Janet Craft.

Miss Snyder was always enthusiastic about her classes.

Man's contemporary existence explored in "World Today"

Social Studies Foreign Language

The Social Studies Department opened new areas for its classes by connecting a T. V. cable to each room. This gave the students an opportunity to relate to contemporary problems in relationship to past achievements. Actual films of the historical events of the last 70 years were made available. This department met the 1970's with a wide variety of courses: World Travel, Urban Geography, World Today, Sociology, Psychology, Anthropology, and the traditional classes of U. S. History, Government, Modern and Ancient History.

Offering programs in Spanish, French, and German for college-bound students, native speakers, and students who merely wanted to learn to speak the language was East High's Foreign Language Department. An excursion to a Basque restaurant, Amestoy's, was taken during the fall by the French classes under Mr. Esneault. A new addition to the staff was Mrs. Silverman, who instructed the German classes. Mr. Purcell taught the advanced and native-speaking Spanish courses. This experienced faculty was made up of teachers who had studied the foreign language in the native setting.

Ind. Arts Home Econ.

The Home Economics courses offered allowed the students to explore relevant concepts that prepared them for practical living. New sections of Stitchery and Bachelor Living were added to the classes of cooking and sewing. The Stitchery class, taught by Mrs. Williams journeyed to a local art shop, Le Beau Jardin to survey different stitchery techniques and ideas. Department Head Mrs. Teves, taught the new and unique Bachelor Living class. This class allowed male students the opportunity to learn the skills related to homemaking.

To help students become self-sufficient and have a saleable skill were the primary objectives of the Ind. Arts dept. Students were instructed in the function of an automobile and the construction of a building. The wood-working courses combined practical and theoretical exercises to stress the growth, characteristics and achievements when working with wood.

"To be fully educated is to be educated by both mind and hand", was emphasized by the instructors, Dick Stutzman, Earl Barrall, Robert Sipe, Jerry Mullings, John Lopez and Herman Travers.

Classroom television became teaching innovation

Business Ed English

A teaching innovation in the English Department was the T.V. hookup to individual classrooms. Televising replays of excellent films such as "Brian's Song", "Lilies of the Field", "To Sir With Love", and Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew", broadened horizons for the English classes.

The popular Elective program which took place on every Monday and Friday, added more Selective Study courses this year, in the fields of debate, discussion, and reading. The Reading Lab, headed by Mr. James Davis, was the newest section of the English Department. This course helped students become more aware of their individualistic needs and also aides helped develop maturity and understanding among slow-learning students.

Energy Crunch Changed Routines

Clerical Custodial Cafeteria

Our custodians, concerned about the energy crisis, took immediate action to help conserve energy throughout the school. Under the heading of Mr. Vernon Dunham, the Custodial Staff acted by cutting down on the lighting and heat dispersed through EB.

The Clerical Staff handled the responsibility of office work such as the attendance and administrative correspondence. The secretaries were concerned about the little opportunity for individual student contact, and hoped to be recognized as a caring staff, interested in the students themselves.

A significant change was made in the cafetéria with the use of paper and plastic utensils rather than the regular silverware and trays. This benefitted the Cafeteria Staff, under Geneva Grisham, by eliminating the task of washing the dishes. Another innovation was the changing of table arrangements in the cafeteria. This was done to encourage students to use the trash cans in order to cut down on the litter problem.

Reader interest became top priority for staffers

Kernal

While learning the techinques of journalism, Kernal staffers also learned the responsibilities that go with such a job. They were taught that public interest is varied and that they must attempt to meet those demands. Guided by advisor, Mrs. Berra, they worked to produce a media of faculty, student, and school news, creative writing, humor, and current events. Student determination and hard work paid off when the Kernal became truly a student's paper. Diana Larwood was editor-in-chief of this free, bi-weekly newspaper. Page two editor was Mark Luttrell, page three editor was Pam McDonald, and sports editor was James Estes. Ads managers were Carol Fox and Charlie Besser. Staff photographers were Cheryl Miller and Mark Cross.

Performance goals set at learning best in band music

Blade Band

Mr. Robert Campbell director of the Blade Band, set one of their performance goals at learning the best in band music. During performances at half-time at our home football games, U.S.C., the annual trip to Disneyland, and various other public appearances, the Band demonstrated that it had reached this goal.

With officers: Robert Ryder — Drum Major; Lars Olson — Captain; Patty Renfore, Terry Dahl — Lieutenants; Doug Lee — Sgt. at Arms; Carmen Espinoza, Linda Shaull — Uniform Sgts.; Vicki Espinoza, Andy Cantrell — Librarians. Each week the Stage Band met for a two hour rehearsal to gain mastery of the various styles and pop music. They performed at junior highs and also in the spring concert.

lice Desilagua, Pat Peson, Lars Olson, Jim Durmus, and Steve Hernandez spent many hours practicing.

Center of Excellence Challenged Instrumentalists

Orchestra

Under the skillful baton of Richard Southwick, the orchestra displayed its many talents to East High and our community on several occasions. These included performances at Pops, Christmas and Spring Concerts. During the Rating Festival the orchestra was judged along with other instrumental groups throughout the district. The Center of Excellence Orchestra was an attempt to provide outstanding young musicians a new challenge for growth. Instrumentalists were selected from the orchestras at East, Highland, and Foothill. Two major chocolate sales helped finance a trip to Yosemite National Park, and provided lessons for individuals students.

Choral groups united at graduation ceremonies

Advanced Girls, Girls Glee, Boys Glee

For those with prior training, Advanced Girls Ensemble provided an opportunity for them to extend their knowledge in music. Under the direction of Roger Winter, Advanced Girls Ensemble performed in the Pops, Christmas, and Spring concerts. They also participated with all choral classes in the graduation ceremonies. During the adjudication, a city wide rating. Advanced Girls Ensemble obtained high scores in such areas as intonation, interpretation, dynamics, and appearance.

Girls Glee provided beginning vocal instruction and performing experience. They performed at the Pops Concert, Christmas Concert, Music Festival, Spring Concert, and at Sierra Jr. High. Officers were Lucy Alexander, Pres.; Andrea Dommer, Vice Pres.; Dorothy Wells, Sec.; Loretta Turner, Librarian; and Kathy Crain, I.C. C. Rep.

Boys Glee was designed for boys to learn to perform music of all styles and periods. They performed at the Pops Concert, Christmas Concert, Music Festival, Spring Concert, and at Sierra Jr. High. Wildwood Scholarships earned from profits of annual chocolate sale

Concert Choir Chamber singers

All work was not the entire motto of East High's Concert Choir, for they had parties and group discussions which developed a closer knit group. By selling chocolate bars, members worked together to raise money to send several students to camp Wildwood for intensive training in music. Under the direction of Mr. Roger Winter, Concert Choir performed at many events throughout the year. The choir played an important part in the Pops, Christmas and Spring Concerts. During the spring the choir was involved in a city-wide festival chorus. Highlighting the year was a trip to Disneyland where the group displayed their talent in the annual Christmas Pageant. The year was culminated by their participation in graduation ceremonies.

Devotion was the word to describe the dynamic Chamber Singers. This facit of the Choral Department gave its services to over 20 hospitals and Civic groups during the Christmas season alone. They performed twice for the Ann Gutcher Show and held their annual fund raising concert in March. Besides playing an important role in the Pops Concert, and Spring Concert, they participated in the solo festival and sang in Anaheim a National Conference.

Activities Inspired Tennis Enthusiasm

A.F.S. Rifle Racquet

A.F.S. helped further the world's understanding of foreign cultures and people on East's campus. Potlucks were held at members' homes to get to meet various exchange students throughout the community. During Christmas, A.F.S. held a festive luncheon at the Mexicali restaurant. An annual assembly and fund raising drive were presented. These funds allowed a foreign exchange student to attend East High and send an EB student abroad. Mr. VanVoorhis and Miss Snyder advised.

An interest in the safe operation and firing of small arms made one eligible for Rifle Club. In preparation for trophy competition at the end of the year, the members of the Rifle Club took weekly excursions to the E.B. underground rifle range for marksmanship improvement. Mrs. Virginia Folsom and Mr. Jerry Mullings advised.

When weather permitted, Racquet Club held tennis clinics twice a week during the fall that was to improve upon the game of the members. This prepared them for tennis season in the spring. In January, Racquet Club sponsored a tennis assembly with various members and coaches from Cal State and the B.C. tennis teams, Racquet Club was advised by Mr. Jack Cantrell.

Rodeo Club started off the year with a trip to Hark Park on horseback. During the club's active year, the members enjoyed a Spanish dinner and a Christmas party. The club also made plans for a rodeo which included events like bronc riding, calf roping, and steer riding. Miss Miller and Mr. Tedder advised.

Jello eating contest prompted spirit

Rally Club

Rally Club approached the school year with a fresh outlook by filling the year with many events to generate school spirit. Throughout the year, many assemblies were held such as the Monster Mash Rally, the Christman Rally, the East High Variety Show Rally, and the Kazoo Rally, which instigated the formation of a Kazoo Band to help in the encouraging of our Blade basketball team. Members of the various classes and clubs participated in jello-eating, bubble-gum blowing, apple bobbing, hall-decorating contests and in the judging of Santa and his helpers. The tradition of BHS Week was upheld with such happenings as Hat Day, A Driller Killer Car Contest, and Exchange, Night and Breakfast Rallies. Displaying East's enthusiasm the varsity cheerleading squad earned sweepstakes from a cheerleading camp at Pepperdine College in Malibu.

Eco-System Observed at Kern Plateau Workshop

Lettermen Ecology Girls Service

An active group that attempted to clarify mans role in our ecological system was East High Ecology Club under the guidance of Mr. Fulcher and Mr. Lovelace. Ecology Club went to Kernville to assist at the Kern Plateau Ecology Workshop. The group also went to Glennville to see Indian pictographs and petroglyphs. To raise money the club sold tootsie pops, bubble gum cigars and held a bake sale.

Under Catherine Miller's advising, East High's Service Club launched off the school year with a pot-luck to welcome new members. Displaying school enthusiasm, the club often decorated Memorial Stadium during football season. At the student body play, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," club members acted as usherettes. Funds were raised through the sale of suckers.

Multitude of field trips filled science East year.

Science Deca Drafting Bowling

Asserting itself as a very active club, Science East made many trips which were not only fun for those involved, but educational also. Led by Mr. Goodrich and presided over by Karen Butler, Science East sold chews to help raise money for these activities. They spent two days each at Death Valley and Sequoia National Park. Other excursions were made to Long Beach, the snow and to the coast.

As directors of DECA, distributive education clubs of America, Mr. Bloom and Mrs. Appleton introduced students to jobs in the field of marketing and distribution. To increase their knowledge in this field interested students attended the career development conference in Los Angeles. Displays sales demonstrations and advertising also helped members prepare for the job market.

Under the direction of Mr. E. Barrall, drafting students produced their finest works for the East High's Fine Arts Exhibit. Another activity participated in was the District-wide Industrial Arts Competition at Valley Plaza. These activities encouraged future careers as draftsmen, architects, and engineers.

One of the most active clubs on campus was the Bowling Club. Every Wednesday the participants went, either by personal transportation or by the bus, that was provided, to the Bakersfield Bowling Academy. In addition to the weekly bowling at a reduced price, they bowled in interschool competition. For this the top bowlers were awarded trophies. Supervising the club was Mr. Paul Sunderland and Mr. Bill Vinson.

Key Clubbers Marshalled Buck Owens Tournament

Student Store Ski Club Key Club

In the student store, students learned to cashier, control inventory, verify payable accounts, complete formal tax returns, and learned an additional lesson in responsibility. Profits went to the student body to help finance sports, music, or other programs that lacked sufficient funds. The advisor was Mr. Scatena and the manager was Mrs. V. Mills.

Under the supervision of Mr. James Davis and Miss Susan Lloyd, Ski Club held their annual car wash. With the money earned, they helped charter a bus for the Badger Pass trip. Out of concern for the gasoline crunh, High School ski clubs throughout the district left for China Peak and Badger Pass on the same bus to enjoy a sunny day on the slopes.

Led by club president, Phil McNabb, Key Club had many successful projects They made frequent trips to a local convalescent home and during Christmas, brought presents and gave the residents a party. Key Club was also responsible for the programs sold at home football games. Club members had a chance to meet celebrities as they marshalled at the Buck Owens Celebrity Golf Tournament held at the Bakersfield country club. Key Club was sponsored by Kern and East Kiwanis Club of Bakersfield. Members of Key Club were also guests of the Kiwanis' at luncheons held regularly at Freddie's Top Of The Hill. The year was concluded with the annual Installation and Awards Dinner in May and attendance at the District Convention held in San Diego in May.

Color My World Culminated Dancers Year

Modern dance VICA GAA

Modern Dance learned dancing techniques under the instruction of Janet Craft, a new addition to E.B.'s Physical Education Department. Members made their debut, accompanied by the band, for a football game half-time show.

At Christmas time, the classes participated in either the Christmas Concert with the music of the Orchestra, or in an assembly for all the girls P.E. classes. A concert in the Spring with the theme "Color My World" was held. This was their final chance to display their talents. Money was earned by holding a car wash and bake sale.

V.I.C.A. encouraged excellence in craftsmanship, leadership and personal development for those desiring to insure their future in vocational skills. At a national level, youth participated in achievement programs and competitive activities. Vocational Industrial Clubs of America informed members of jobs available in many industrial technical fields. Including in their fund raising events were a calendar and sucker sale, and pop bottles and paper drives. Mr. Jerry Mullings advised.

Before this year G.A.A. was the only means for a girl to compete in sports out of school. Some of the games that they played against other schools were in Speedaway, Basketball, Softball, and others. Miss Miller, the advisor, was instrumental in inspiring them to have never earned anything lower than a third place in competition.

Patti Macias, Laurie Nafus and Theresa Henson displayed their dancing fo

Sequoia Conference Climaxed CSF Year

To expand their knowledge of photography and spark an interest among other students were the essential motives of this year's Photo Club. Advised by Mr. Jack Hendrix, members raised money to finance trips to the coast and to San Francisco. Picnics, swim parties, and a snow trip also increased the realm of picture subjects.

The main purpose of the Italian Club was to foster and promote Italian heritage and its contributions to music, art and science. Participation in projects of the Italian Heritage Dante Association made the local community aware of the part Italians play in its growth. A fund-raising activity for the club was a car wash. Mr. Scatena advised it.

The purpose of CSF was to promote high standards of scholarship, citizenship, and service among high school students in California. Members worked toward a Gold Seal by trying to get 3 "A"s and 1 "B" four of the last six semesters, one of which must be in the senior year. CSF organized Rooter Ribbon sales during the football season and held the annual Gold Seal Luncheon in the spring. A university trip to U.C. at Santa Barbara and the groups's attendance of the Honors Day at U.C.L.A. were major activities of the club. The CSF students also went to Sequoia for the State Conference. Mr. Makoff and Mr. Chichester advised.

LaTolteca Float Garnered Sweepstakes

ASBU La Tolteca

Designed to unite Black students, A.S.B.U. strived to also establish cultural and social pride among them. This year's activities included sponsoring a dance in February, the annual Talent Show, and a candied apple sale. The club celebrated Black History Week with an assembly and presentation of its Black History Queen.

Promoting a better understanding of the Mexican American role in the United States and preserving the values of his customs and heritage defined the primary goals of LaTolteca. A highlight of the years activities was receiving the sweepstakes trophy for their float entered in the Mexican Independence Day Parade. Other activities included a snow trip to Tehachapi, a Cinco de Mayo fiesta and an assembly. On February 25, members attended the Chicano Conference which was open to all high schools in Kern County. A dance in January and the Huff and Puff football game were also sponsored by the club.

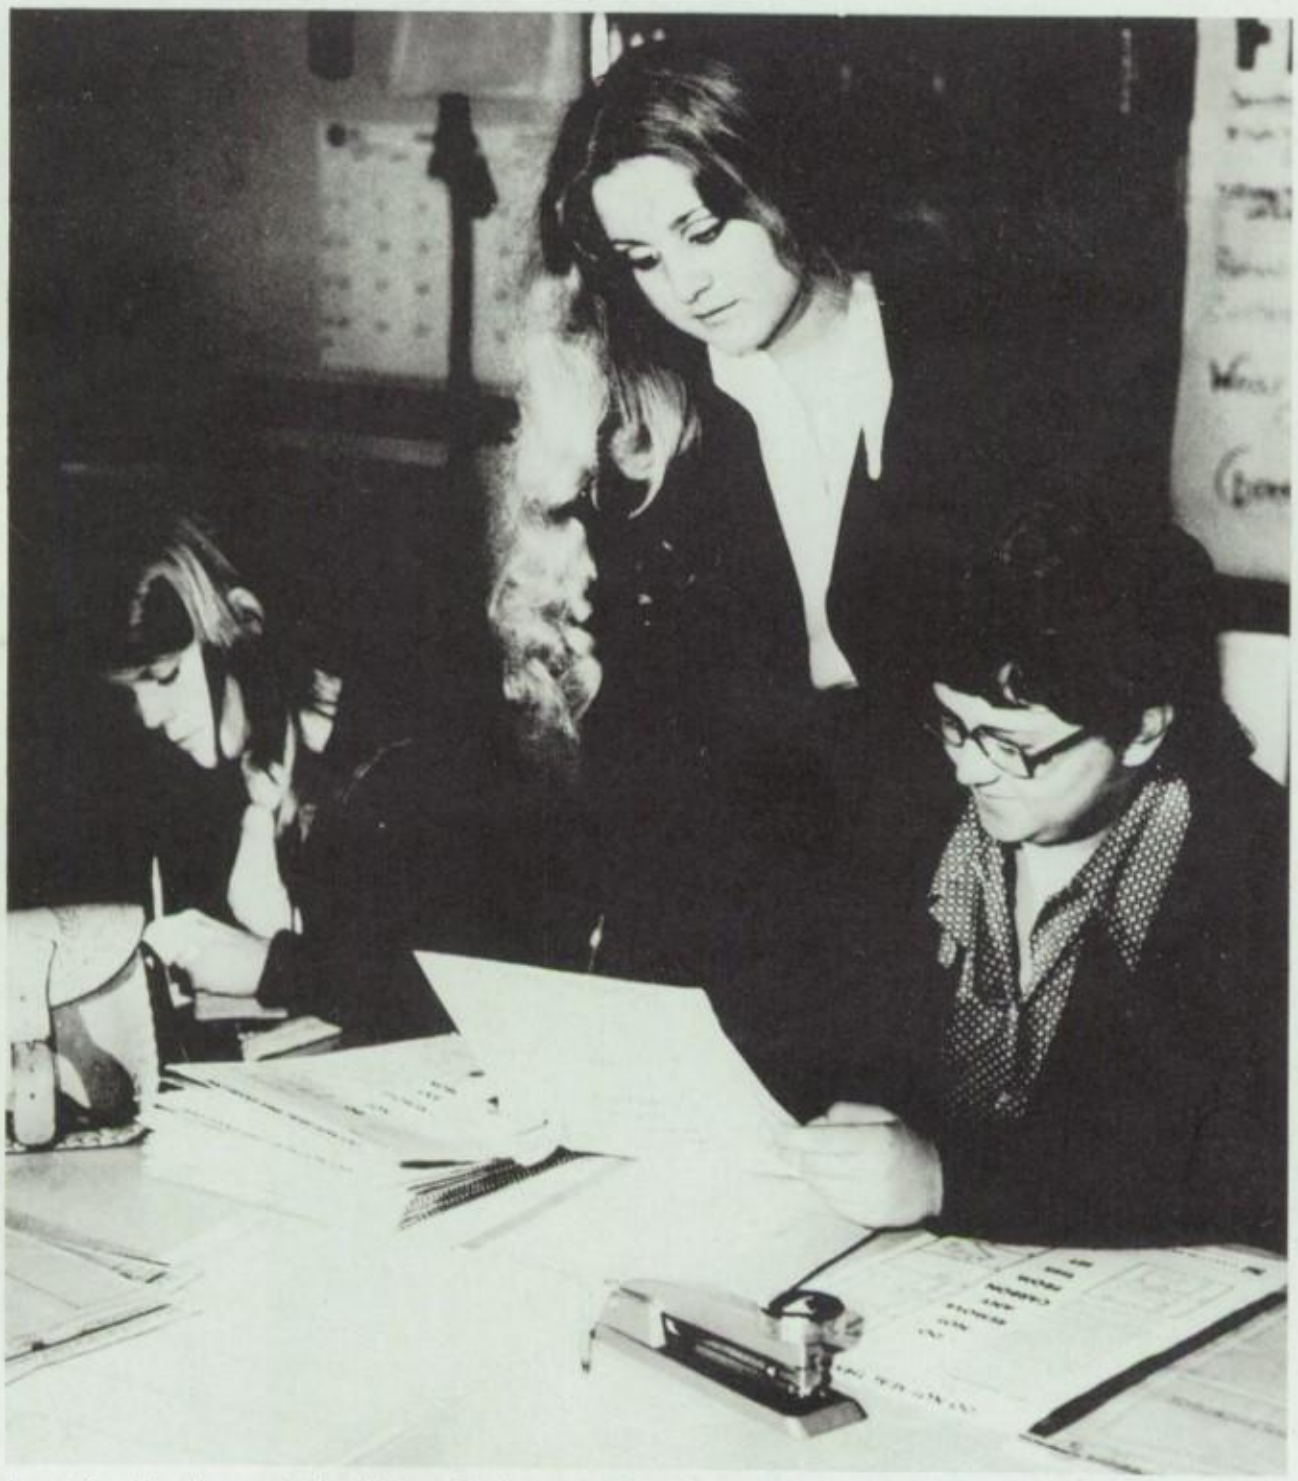
Responsibility — a lesson learned by Yearbook staff.

Sierran Staff

Once again the Sierran Staff completed its mission under the guidance of Advisor Jack Hendrix. Putting in many long hours and some frustrating moments the staffers found it took responsibility to put together a yearbook. Without this the yearbook could not have been a reality. Their activities included selling ads totaling $1600.00, writing copy, formulating layouts which covered school activities throughout the entire year.



Janet Boultinghouse helped Mary Ferdinand and Jackie Patton with yearbook layouts.

A yearbook is joy, anger laughter and worry

Senior Editors

"This book is more than pictures on pages. It is all of the joy, laughter, anger and worry of we who put it together. For in the busy rush that goes with putting a yearbook together, you can't wear a mask, your true self shows through. Because the masks have been taken away a close bond has formed between us that won't be broken and the book is the evidence of it. The word for this bond is love."
